

ADVENTURES
in good company

RAFTING AND HIKING CATARACT CANYON

Trip Summary

HIGHLIGHTS

- Spend a night at the beginning and end of the trip in world famous Moab, the gateway to adventure in the Southwest
- Float a slow-moving section of the Colorado River for the first part of the trip using oar power (never motorized), traveling in harmony with the river
- Explore remote reaches of Canyonlands National Park
- Unleash your sense of wonder as you navigate breathtaking whitewater rapids
- Sleep under a brilliant tapestry of stars, swim under red cliffs, and relax on huge sandy beaches

Phone: 877-439-4042

Outside the US: 970-833-3132

Email: info@goodadventure.com

TRIP AT A GLANCE

Location:	Moab, Utah
Activities:	Paddling, Hiking, Swimming & Fun!
Arrive:	Fly into the Moab airport by 3 PM on Day 1. You can check into our group hotel at 4 PM by name.
Depart:	Fly out of the Moab airport at any time on the last day.

Trip Overview

Cataract is an old-fashioned word for waterfall - so you are headed down "Waterfall Canyon" from the safety of a professionally guided woman-powered boat. This section of the Colorado river is a perfect place for beginners or more experienced paddlers - there is something for everyone. This trip is suitable for any woman who is a confident and comfortable swimmer who is enchanted by the magnificent southwest desert. Spend your days basking in the sun on the boat, learning about the geology and history of the red rock canyons as you float peacefully by. After a day or two of learning the rhythms of the river, get your fill of adrenaline through more than 30 white water rapids with names like Mile Long, Ben Hurt and The Big Drop. This stretch is a natural rollercoaster sure to splash a smile onto your face! Spend your nights in the company of new friends trading stories and eating hearty meals. Sleep out under the endless Utah sky or curl up in a cozy two-person tent. Spend the last night back in Moab with the comfort of a hot shower and a celebratory farewell dinner. Maximum group size: 19

Rating

This trip is suitable for any healthy, active woman with good mobility who wants a whitewater rafting trip. The rafts are paddled by certified river guides so you can sit back and enjoy the ride or try your hand at paddling in an inflatable kayak or stand-up paddleboard. No previous rafting or hiking experience is required but you must have sufficient agility to get in and out of rafts in moving water. All hikes are optional and range from easy strolls to strenuous hikes with significant inclines and declines. While this trip is suitable for a variety of fitness levels, you will have the best time engaging in all activities if you are prepared for a level 2 trip. Rating: [1] [2] [3] 4 5.

What's Included

- Female rafting guides and an Adventures in Good Company group leader
- Two nights double occupancy accommodation in lodges in Moab
- Meals from dinner on the first day through breakfast on the last day
- Basic sleeping kit, which includes a two-person tent, sleeping bag, sleeping pad, small pillow, rain gear and cup

Not included: Personal gear, alcoholic beverages, personal snacks, guide gratuities, and travel insurance.

OUR ITINERARY

Below is the itinerary we have planned for the trip. As is true on any adventure travel trip, plans for any specific day may be modified due to weather considerations, unforeseen circumstances, new opportunities, and group interests.

DAY 1

Welcome to the desert! Fly into Moab, Utah (CNY) any time today and grab a convenient shuttle on your own to the nearby group hotel where you can check in starting at 4 PM. We'll keep the evening stress free with ordered-in pizza, pasta, and salad at our hotel so we can dine while getting to know one another. Our river guides will swing by the hotel tonight for river and packing orientation. Moab is an adventure mecca for outdoor enthusiasts, perfect for exploring if you're considering extending your trip on your own. There are 2,000 arches and counting in nearby Arches National Park! As Edward Abbey said in his book Desert Solitaire after spending time as a ranger in the national parks of Utah, "Wilderness - the word itself is music." Overnight Moab lodging (D)

DAY 2

Good morning, Moab! There's nothing like a desert sunrise. After a hearty breakfast at our lodging, we'll load up the vans and drive 90 minutes to the Mineral Bottom boat ramp on the Green River. The final two miles to the put-in spot are steep switchbacks where we'll walk down to make the vans lighter and stretch our legs. The Green River and the Colorado River both flow through Canyonlands National Park where they have formed the park's canyon mazes and plateaus, unbroken scarps, and iconic sandstone pillars. The Green River merges with the Colorado in the heart of Canyonlands at the Confluence in Cataract Canyon, and from there, the Colorado continues its journey south. We'll experience these rivers at their finest, from the vantage point of a quiet human powered vessel. Hop in an inflatable kayak or onto a stand-up paddle board (SUP) for some added adventure or settle in on a guide-oared raft. We'll lunch on a sandbar and hike at Fort Bottom where we can visit an old prospector's cabin or climb the hill to an Ancestral Puebloan lookout tower. Afterwards, we'll float through magnificent canyon walls, far below hikers and visitors at Dead Horse Point State Park. Overnight camping on river (B, L, D)

DAY 3

Our first full day on the river! A bright dawn light makes the canyon walls glow like red gold. Listen for the descending song of the canyon wren or paddle your SUP along the shore in search of otters and Great Blue Herons. The river meanders peacefully in this section. Swim alongside the rafts or lounge under an umbrella. We may stop for a hike to a rock art panel or check out Anderson Bottom, an area of interesting settler history. At least seven different families attempted to establish ranches or farms here. They all failed not because the land was infertile but because it was too remote, too hard to supply, and too lonely. Overnight camping on river (B, L, D)

DAY 4

Rinse and repeat! Life on the river is slower and sweeter. Today we'll get to hike around Turks Head, a dramatic rock outcrop with rich cultural artifacts. Learn to spot granaries (ancient food storage structures) on the cliff walls as we float downstream. (B, L, D)

DAY 5

The Colorado river through Cataract Canyon is considered to be the "King (or in our case 'Queen') of Utah River Trips". The tranquil start lulls paddlers into a peaceful trance before treating you to thrilling whitewater rapids later on. Today we'll reach the confluence of the Colorado and Green rivers, believed by some cultures to be the center of the universe. Buckle up your personal flotation device to swim through the line where the two rivers meet if you would like! Make your way back in the boat and get ready for the rapids ahead! Just below the confluence, enjoy a view of the Doll House, a collection of freestanding, sandstone columns. The Doll House is one of the remotest regions of the Maze District of Canyonlands. Today we may hike a mile in an area called The Loop, where we climb up and over a low point in the canyon wall while the rafts travel a full four river miles to reach the same place. Overnight camping on river (B, L, D)

DAY 6

White Water Rapids Day! Optional Hike to the Doll House. Conditions permitting, ambitious hikers may start the day with a hike into the Doll House. It's a strenuous, 800-foot climb out of the canyon and into a world of white and pink striped sandstone pinnacles. See evidence of the Paradox Formation, the salty remnants of an ancient sea that lies under most of eastern Utah. Ascend steeply to the canyon rim in the Maze District to explore the red rock formations and prehistoric artifacts. Once again on the river, we'll look forward to the rapids of Cataract Canyon. We'll stop and scout a few of the big ones, giving plenty of time for the suspense to build. Hold on for the Big Drops: Little Niagara and Satan's Gut. Another possible hike today is to Clearwater Canyon, a relaxing walk in a deep, sandstone side canyon, past small pools, and smooth sandstone ledges. Overnight camping on river (B, L, D)

DAY 7

After a few last rapids, the water calms again, and the canyon walls rise, smooth and majestic. We're now officially in Lake Powell, although depending on the reservoir level, it may still feel like a river for a long distance. We'll float under the Hite Narrows Bridge and pull over just beyond the mouth of the Dirty Devil River. A two-hour drive brings us back to the river warehouse. Our expected time of arrival back at our headquarters is between 5-6 PM. Let's toast to our incredible journey over the past week over a delicious farewell dinner in town. Overnight at lodging in Moab (B, L, D)

DAY 8

After a final breakfast with our new AGC sisters and friends, you are free to fly out at any time today from the Moab airport (CNY). Check out from our hotel is at 11 AM. Catch a convenient shuttle on your own from the hotel to the airport. (B)

ADDITIONAL TRIP INFORMATION

Getting There

If you would like assistance with airfare, we recommend contacting our AirDesk Partner, Exito Travel. Start by submitting this form. Just fill in your dates and destinations, including any additional notes about preferred carriers, class of service, possible stopovers, etc., and an agent will typically respond via email within a few hours. If you prefer to call, the number is 800-655-4053; be sure to tell them you are traveling with Adventures in Good Company.

Please note: Exito charges a one-time, non-refundable processing fees of $35 per passenger.

Accommodations

We will spend the first and last night in modern lodging in Moab, Utah with hot showers and beds. The rest of our nights will be spent camping on sandy riverbanks, either out in the open or in comfortable two person tents. There are no showers or formal bathrooms while on the river but each day our guides will set up a "groover" - a portable and private river toilet. We will practice Leave No Trace ethics which means the guides will pack out all the waste in the leakproof and airtight containers.

Travel Insurance

We recommend that you purchase a travel protection plan to help protect you and your travel investment against the unexpected. For your convenience, we offer travel protection through Travelex Insurance Services. For more information on the available plans or to enroll, visit www.travelexinsurance.com or call 1-800-228-9792 and reference location number 06-0331.

Travelex Insurance Services, Inc CA Agency License #0D10209. All products listed are underwritten by, Berkshire Hathaway Specialty Insurance Company, NAIC #22276.

CANCELLATION POLICY

Cancellation charges reflect the many expenses Adventures in Good Company cannot recover if you cancel, even if you must do so due to illness, injury, or personal emergencies. These fees are not meant to be punitive. The charges made reflect the expenses Adventures in Good Company has incurred in administering your reservation and planning for your participation. We recognize that the majority of those who cancel their reservations do so out of necessity. Please note that we do not make any refunds for any unused portion of your trip, not arriving, arriving late, or leaving the trip early.

Click here for our Cancellation & Payment Policies and Booking Terms & Conditions.