Trip Overview

South Dakota is an undervalued gem of a vacation spot, full of wildlife and outstanding outdoor adventure but with the ample space to spread out and enjoy. Nestled into the black hills is a lush valley where we'll stay in modern and Pinterest worthy cabins, close to adventure hot spots like Custer State Park, Mount Rushmore and Ziplining!

Rating

This trip is suitable for any woman who enjoys hiking and relaxed non-technical biking. While the elevation gain is substantial on our first hike, it is an out and back route so any participant wanting to turn back early may do so. The total biking mileage is 22 miles but it is over flat even terrain and participants can opt out of biking altogether and replace with more hiking around the cabin retreat property. A rating of 3 requires aerobic conditioning, such as walking vigorously up hills, jogging, cross country skiing or stair stepping for 30 - 45 minutes at least 3 - 4 times a week. There are typically 4 to 6 hours of daily activity. Rating: 1 2 [3] [4] 5

OUR ITINERARY

Below is the itinerary we have planned for the trip. As is true on any adventure travel trip, plans for any specific day may be modified due to weather considerations, unforeseen circumstances, new opportunities, and group interests.

DAY 1

Welcome to South Dakota; a spacious slice of paradise, with sprawling prairies, glacial lakes, and fertile farmlands. Our adventure base for the next few days has everything we need to unwind and enjoy the outdoors. Fly into Rapid City Regional Airport (RAP) by 3pm. We'll pick you up at 3:30pm and drive to our lodging together as a group. The Hinterwood Inn and Cabins is a family owned and operated retreat, nestled in the verdant hills of Keystone, SD, just a short drive to Mount Rushmore. This afternoon we'll tour the retreat property and get to know each other before sharing our first meal together. Tonight we'll kick off the vacation with a sunset tour of Mount Rushmore with an option to stay for the evening lighting ceremony at 8pm. (D)

DAY 2

Custer State Park is considered one of the world's top 10 wildlife destinations. We'll have the entire day to soak up views that include bison, whitetail and mule deer, antelope, mountain goats, elk, coyotes, birds, wild turkeys, prairie dogs, bighorn sheep, and begging burros. Did we mention the herd of over 1,300 buffalo that freely roam its grounds? Today we'll start early with a hike up Black Elk Peak (6.4 miles round trip, 1,499 ft elevation gain. It's an out and back trail so you can turn around early to make it shorter. Conversely there are great add ons like Little Devil's Tower and Cathedral Spires which make the total mileage 7.7 miles) At the peak of 7,242 feet above sea level stands the highest point in the United States east of the Rockies and a CCC built fire tower with incredible panoramic views. On a clear day you can see parts of Nebraska, Wyoming and Montana as well as the granite cliffs of the Black Elk Wilderness. This afternoon we'll relax on the shores of Sylvan Lake with a picnic lunch. You can take a refreshing swim or there is a scenic one mile trail around the perimeter of the lake perfect for strolling! (B, L, D)

DAY 3

Today we trade hiking boots for bikes as we explore the George S. Mickelson Trail. Named for one of South Dakota's former governors, this 109 mile long bike trail was an ambitious project that converted more than 100 bridges and 4 rock tunnels from railroad lines to trails, hence the rails to trails designation. It follows gentle slopes and passes through beautiful black hill country and National Forest land. (If you're not a fan of recreational cycling, you're welcome to hang back at the cabins as there are interesting hiking trails on site.) We'll embark on a full day low key cycle with a sweet reward afterwards - wine tasting! Prairie Berry Winery started their operations over 20 years ago and has won over 1,000 awards since. Wine isn't your favorite drink? You're in luck! The same successful wine family expanded into small batch brewing, opening Miner Brewing Company next door. The owner, a 5th generation South Dakotan named Sandi prides herself on using nearby ingredients for her handcrafted beer: from local honey to handpicked wild fruits such as chokecherries, buffalo berries, and rosehips to indigenous yeast and hops, it all comes from South Dakota; even the wheat for her Wheat beer comes from her family farm. (Cycling distance: 18 miles, mostly flat or downhill with some gentle grade inclines) (B, L, D)

DAY 4

Today we'll stretch our legs on a different path in Custer State Park, the Sunday Gulch Trail. Though the mileage is low (3.9 mile loop), the trail is steep in some places with boulders (and handrails!) and offers an up close view of the fascinating geological formations of the park. This afternoon we'll get our thrills in with a zipline adventure tour! On this two hour nonstop fun tour, we'll see Mount Rushmore from a different angle as we soar through the lush forests of the Black Hills on 5 ziplines. For those interested in great views of Mount Rushmore but don't want to zipline, you can take the relaxing chairlift to the summit where you can walk around on short nature trails before heading back down the hill on the chairlift. Tonight we celebrate our adventure with a step back in time, going out to eat at a local restaurant with 1900's decor. (B, L, D)

DAY 5

It's over too soon! What a great way to spend a long weekend. On our last day we'll have a leisurely breakfast before packing up and heading back to the Rapid City Regional Airport (RAP) for flights out after 11am. (B)
